

PERFECT FOR FOODIES, LOVERS OF GRAND HOTELS, TRAVEL, AND NEW YORK CITY

From the beloved creator of Madeline, this beautiful new edition of Ludwig Bemelmans' classic memoir was hailed by Anthony Bourdain as "Truly a great book—unique, invaluable and unapproachable as the gold standard of the genre..."

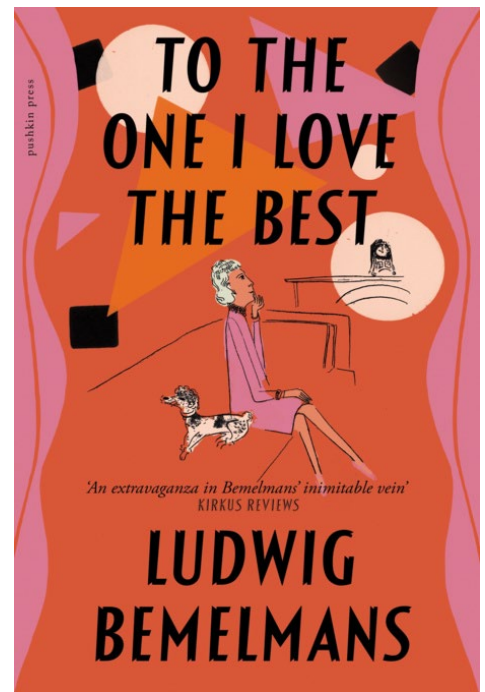

Featuring French flaps, art deco endpapers, and Bemelmans' timeless illustrations throughout, picture David Sedaris writing Kitchen Confidential about the Ritz in New York in the 1920s: Hotel Splendide is loaded with colorful and spirited stories from a bygone era that also offers a portrait of the artist as a young waiter.

Coming soon:

A witty and charming account of the wildly entertaining Elsie de Wolfe ("The First Lady of Interior Decoration") in 1950s Hollywood, recounted by her dear friend, Ludwig Bemelmans
