I'm so proud to present this season's new list of books for children. Our list had grown substantially in the last few years and we have been lucky enough to have our books honored as Junior Library Guild selections, New York Times Best Illustrated titles, as well as receiving awards from ALSC (The Association for Library Service to Children) and USBBY (The United States Board on Books for Young People) not to mention, more starred reviews than we can count. For a small independent publisher like us, this is incredible. I want to thank those talented librarians, educators and booksellers who have supported us throughout the years. Without you we would not be where we are today.

Our books this season have been a joy to work on. With these beautiful new titles, we hope to help children make sense of themselves and the world around them. With sensitive and insightful stories, as well as exciting and illuminating nonfiction, we believe in the timeless appeal of great illustration, thoughtful content, and its power to bring ideas to life for all of our readers, young and old.

The newest title in the bestselling Professor Astro Cat series takes readers on a journey through the wonders of the human body.

Our bodies are some of the most complicated things in the Universe. Join Professor Astro Cat and the whole gang as they explore every part of the human body, with the help of writer Dominic Walliman himself. From head to toe and everywhere in-between, nothing is left out of this fascinating human body odyssey!

Dr Dominic Walliman loves explaining science. As well as writing the award-winning Professor Astro Cat books, he produces popular science videos on his YouTube channel, Domain of Science.

Ben Newman is an award-winning illustrator who has racked up an impressive list of clients including Penguin, the BBC, and the New York Times, among many others.

Owen Davey's popular nonfiction series continues with a captivating and stunningly illustrated guide to these six-legged insects.

Did you know that there are roughly 400,000 different species of beetles? These incredible creatures make up about 25% of all animals on our planet! From the mighty Goliath beetle to the beautiful iridescent scarab beetle, these insects are superbly adapted to life in many climates across the world.

Owen Davey is an award-winning illustrator, living and working in Leicester, UK. He graduated with a first class degree in illustration from Falmouth University and his work has since been published in every continent except Antarctica!

“An all-around superior nonfiction resource.”

Mountains have been the fascination (and sometimes the downfall) of adventurers and explorers throughout history.

Meet the animal inhabitants of these rocky peaks, as well as the brave travelers who challenged their great heights. Climb into this immersive book and explore the top of the world, from the peaks of Kilimanjaro to the summit of Mount Everest. Revel in the lush illustrations by Wild Animals of The North creator, Dieter Braun, in this celebration of mountains all over the world.

Dieter Braun is a freelance illustrator and children's book author from Hamburg, Germany. He studied Communication Design at the Folkwangschule in Essen. His book Wild Animals of the North was the first book in translation to reach the shortlist of the Kate Greenaway Medal.

Join Marcy as she decodes hieroglyphs, solves puzzles, and learns about the ancient gods of Egypt in this thrilling second book in the Brownstone's Mythical Collection series.

Marcy's father, Arthur, is a world-famous adventurer, but she doesn't quite share his enthusiasm for exploration. Determined to bring out her adventurous side, Arthur sets off to find the legendary Book of Thoth. When he doesn't return, Marcy must follow in Arthur's footsteps. Can she overcome her deepest fears and save her father?

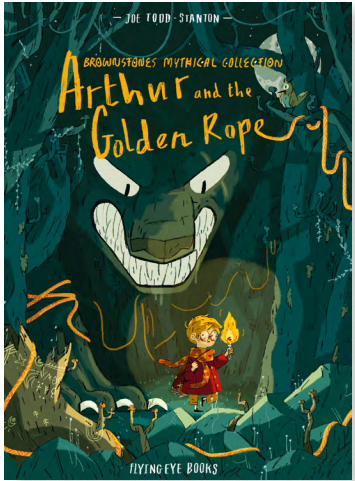

Joe Todd-Stanton grew up in Brighton and studied at UWE Bristol, receiving a first class degree in Illustration. He has worked for clients such as Oxford University Press, Usborne Publishing and Aquila magazine.

This collection of the hilarious Akissi comics by critically acclaimed author Marguerite Abouet will delight young readers with its cheeky protagonist and the mischief she gets up to in her West African home.

Poor Akissi! The neighborhood cats are trying to steal her fish, her little monkey Boubou almost ends up in a frying pan and she's nothing but a pest to her older brother Fofana. But Akissi is a true adventurer full of silliness and mischief, and nothing will scare her for long!

Marguerite Abouet is a writer from Abidjan, Ivory Coast, best known for her tremendously successful comic series, Aya In Yop City.

Mathieu Sapin is a renowned French illustrator from Dijon. He studied at l'Ecole superieure des Arts Décoratifs de Strasbourg and has illustrated numerous books and magazines in France.

This debut picture book from an exciting new illustrator is a simple story with a powerful message that teaches children about the importance of friendship.

The little creatures that live in Jumble Wood each have a thing that makes them happy - all of them except Pod, who just can't find hers. Lonely and sad, Pod sets off to discover where her 'happiness' might be hiding, only to find it in the friends she meets along the way.

Helena Covell is a Yorkshire-based freelance illustrator. She graduated from Edinburgh College of Art in 2015.
