

Latino Poetry: The Library of America Anthology

A landmark collection of more than 180 poets, spanning from the 17th century to today

978-1-59853-783-3
650 pages | $40 U.S. / $54 Can.

On sale
9/3/24

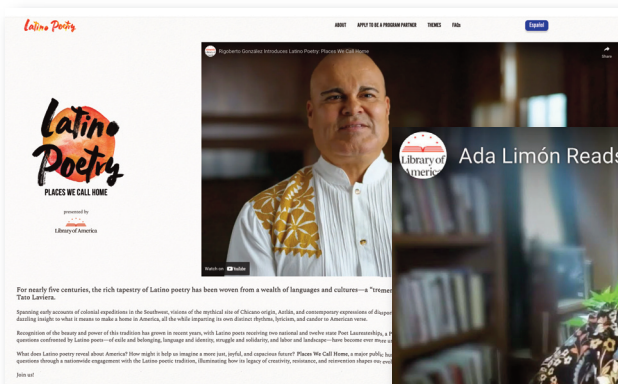

"A wondrous journey through the passions, the ideas, and the diversity of a people redefining what it means to be American."

Héctor Tobar, Pulitzer Prize winner

This groundbreaking anthology is the centerpiece of LATINO POETRY: PLACES WE CALL HOME a yearlong national programming initiative featuring

- latinopoetry.org — project website with new and archival videos, programming resources, and more
- public programs — in 30 states and Puerto Rico, promoted in national and local media

Latino Poetry
PLACES WE CALL HOME

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

Made possible with a special Chair's Award from the National Endowment for the Humanities

LATINO POETRY: PLACES WE CALL HOME SIGNATURE EVENTS

NEW YORK | Museum of the City of NY and The
Clemente Center | Sept

CHICAGO | Chicago Public Library, Harold
Washington Center | Sept

SAN ANTONIO | Guadalupe Cultural Arts Center
and the Latino Bookstore | Weeklong workshops
culminating 10/11

LOS ANGELES | Library Foundation of Los Angeles,
Central Library | 10/28-11/2

MIAMI | Miami Book Fair and Books and Books |
11/17 (dedicated opening day)

SAN JUAN + MAYAGUEZ / Puerto Rico Foundation for the Humanities & Center for the Book
(multiple venues) | 11/21-24

75 PUBLIC LIBRARIES + CULTURAL INSTITUTIONS
in 30 states and Puerto Rico from 9/24 thru 4/25

Library of America loa.org

Classic Writers. Classic Books.
Brian McCarthy, Associate Publisher
bmccarthy@loa.org // 212.308.3360